

Turning up the heat

Vibrant colors are irresistible to this New York designer. Consider his cure for a dingy, overlooked butler's pantry off a wood-paneled dining room: a knockout dose of orange paint on the wood cabinets. "I wanted the feel of a colorful jacket lining," says Gorrivan, who was partly inspired by the pink-and-orange 1960s wallpaper he used as a border. Wall color: Citrus Orange 2016-20.

PHILIP GORRIVAN

